A little word about me and what I do:

I am a counsellor educator at the University of Calgary who researches what makes our conversations with clients collaborative, critically reflective, and generative in ways they find useful.

What does CCPA mean to me?

It is home to Canada's diverse counsellors, and it keeps us connected.

My previous involvement with CCPA:

I was previously involved as Co-Chair of the 2012 National Conference in Calgary.

Favorite author or musical artist: Richard Thompson
