“Clinical hypnosis has been a valuable treatment modality and adjunct for hundreds of years and has been used as an efficacious intervention in medical, dental, and behavioral health care. Clinical hypnosis incorporates understanding of current concepts of neuroanatomy, neurophysiology, and neuroplasticity with effective patient relationship and communication skills. This effective and useful clinical strategy has been defined as a special state of mental functioning, the process to create that state, the experience of oneself in that special state, and all of the above.”

“Hypnotic trance has also been described as a state of focused attention, inner absorption, perceptual distortion, and openness to change. Clinical hypnosis is a powerful therapeutic intervention that draws upon the skill, adaptability, and creativity of clinicians.”

“The benefits of using clinical hypnosis in treatment situations include:”

- Rapid establishment of rapport and the hypnotic relationship developmental and readiness to change stages.
- Facilitation of change, ego-strengthening, personal mastery, and reduction of impediments to change.
- Cost-effective, collaborative, person-centered treatment.

- Providing patients with life-long skills for better health.
